Original publisher: Hampton, Va. : National Aeronautics and Space Administration, Langley Research Center, 2009 OCLC Number: (OCoLC)689082605 Excerpt: . . . of the field is the intractability of automated deduction on the domain of nonlinear real arithmetic. Reasoning over nonlinear inequalities is key to effective analysis of hybrid systems. Existing methods suffer from incompleteness or poor performance. Constructing the transition relation of a model involves proving or disproving formulas that are Boolean combinations of polynomial equalities and inequalities. The full first-order theory of the reals is decidable but it has a double exponential lower bound. The classical decision procedure for this theory is Collins's cylindrical algebraic decomposition (CAD) algorithm [34], but it is very complex and computationally expensive. Available implementations of this decision procedure can solve only very small problems. SRI and its collaborators have developed a new algorithm called RAHD (Real Algebra in High Dimensions) that promises to be sound, complete and effective. It combines many existing algorithms so subproblems are solved using the cheapest technique. A heavily modified form of the CAD algorithm is a key element of RAHD, and the existing CAD implementation QEPCAD-B [35] is also incorporated as a back-end solver. SRI has created a prototype implementation of the RAHD algorithm, which is now undergoing test, evaluation, and refinement. After it is integrated with Hybrid SAL, the overall effectiveness of the hybrid abstraction technique will be enhanced. Hybrid Systems Analysis Relationship to Aviation Safety Hybrid systems analysis will be vital in the application of compositional verification techniques for verification of complex and modular IVHM systems. The analytical methods and tools under development will provide effective means to assess the correctness and safety of complex IVHM and fault-tolerant..
