BiblioGov. Paperback. Book Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. Paperback. 120 pages. Dimensions: 9.7in. x 7.4in. x 0.2in. Pursuant to a congressional request, GAO provided information on: (1) employer compliance with the Hazard Communication Standard (HCS), which requires employers to identify workplace chemical hazards and communicate that information to their employees; (2) the Occupational Safety and Health Administrations (OSHA) efforts to inform small employers about HCS; and (3) the accuracy and clarity of required material safety data sheets (MSDS). GAO found that: (1) according to OSHA safety and health inspection data for fiscal years 1989 and 1990, one-fourth of all the worksites reviewed did not comply with HCS, and small worksites had the highest noncompliance rate; (2) a GAO survey of the construction, manufacturing, and personal services industries found that 58 percent of small employers and 52 percent of all employers did not comply with key HCS requirements; (3) although OSHA conducts outreach activities that include information about HCS, small employers may be unaware of HCS because they have little contact with OSHA; (4) 29 percent of small employers reviewed were unaware of HCS, compared to 2 percent of large employers; (5) 57 percent of small employers stated that better distribution of printed HCS information would increase small employer awareness of HCS; (6) 55 percent of all employers that received MSDS stated that most MSDS were too technical for workers and managers to understand; (7) OSHA reviews MSDS after the chemical manufacturer or importer distributes them to employees, instead of focusing on the MSDS point of origin, which is the manufacturers or importers hazard evaluation process; and (8) since OSHA rarely reviews chemical manufacturers or importers hazard evaluations, many MSDS include inaccurate or incomplete information. This item ships from La Vergne, TN. Paperback.
